

ICAL-2020

4th International Conference of Asian Libraries

Management Libraries: Sustaining Excellence through Innovation, Technology and Repositioning

Jointly Organized by Indian Institute of Management (IIM), Lucknow
Asian Library Association (ASIALA), New Delhi
February, 26-28, 2020

Venue: Utsav Auditorium, Indian Institute of Management Lucknow, Prabandh Nagar, IIM Road, Lucknow – 226 013, U.P, India.

About the Conference

Management and business libraries occupy an important place in Indian librarianship and are in the throes of a major transformation led by technological changes. Like other libraries, they too need to reposition themselves in the midst of new and emerging technological trends and diversify into newer areas of resource discovery and user services. Armed with internet –ready smart phones, users are increasingly being led to alternate sources of information, leading to declining usage of libraries globally.

The overall purpose of conference is to sustain excellence by exploring new possibilities and implement changes to establish new role and responsibilities so as to tap into spirit of their user community for meeting their requirements effectively by the use of innovative technologies.

The conference intends to engage the participants in a discussion of critical issues involving the increased use of innovative practice, offering value-added services and benchmark new practices through capacity building.

About Lucknow

Lucknow, the capital of Uttar Pradesh, lies in the middle of the Heritage Arc. This bustling city, famed for its Nawabi era finesse and amazing food, is a unique mix of the ancient and the modern. It is home to extraordinary monuments depicting a fascinating blend of ancient, colonial and oriental architecture. It is an important centre of governance, administration, education, commerce, aerospace, finance, pharmaceuticals, technology, design, culture, tourism, music and poetry.

Popularly known as the seat of the Nawabi culture, Lucknow stands out as a city that takes pride in the endearing but subdued articulation of its essence and identity. Its mystical elegance and amorous ethos rarely fail to fascinate a perceptive mind. Indeed, it is difficult to remain unimpressed by its 'tehzeeb' (cultural refinement), hospitality, politesse, cuisines and 'Shaam-e-Awadh'. At the same time, Lucknow is placed among the fastest growing cities of India and is rapidly emerging as a manufacturing, commercial and retailing hub. This unique combination of rich cultural traditions and brisk economic growth provides Lucknow with an aura that refuses to fade away.

The city stands at an elevation of approximately 123 metres above sea level. Lucknow district covers an area of 2,528 square kilometres. Hindi is the main language of the city and Urdu is also widely spoken. Lucknow, along with Agra and Varanasi, is in the Uttar Pradesh Heritage Arc, a chain of survey triangulations created by the Government of Uttar Pradesh to boost tourism in the state.

About Indian Institute of Management, Lucknow

The Indian Institute of Management Lucknow (1984) is fourth in the prestigious IIM family of management schools to be established in India after IIM Calcutta (1961), IIM Ahmedabad (1961) and IIM Bangalore (1973).

The mission of IIM Lucknow is to help improve management systems with regard to business, industry and public services through pursuit of excellence in management education, research, consultancy and training. The institute undertakes a diverse range of academic activities aimed at creation, dissemination and application of management knowledge and practice. It moulds its students into value driven leaders, managers and global players. The Institute's 185 acre campus, located amidst serene surroundings at Prabandh Nagar, provides an ideal environment for the pursuit of academic excellence in management education and research, in newer and better ways. For more details, please visit Indian Institute of Management, Lucknow website <http://www.iiml.ac.in/>

About IIML Library

The library has a substantial collection of Databases & Multimedia documents. Objective of Gyanodaya is "to promote knowledge generation and application through its effective dissemination". With its unique collection of more than 70,000 print documents and 5000 online journals in various disciplines, Gyanodaya is the centre of attraction of academics, researchers and students. The library acts as the main learning resource centre and caters the information needs of the Institute's teaching, training, research and consultancy programmes. Operating from a spacious building of about 2800 square meter, fully air-conditioned, centrally located and functionally designed building with a seating capacity of 250 readers in five halls, the library is equipped with ergonomically designed furniture, fittings and fixtures.
