Summary

I am a Professor at Indian Institute of Management, Lucknow having twenty-five years of experience in Finance and Accounting area with specialisation in Financial Services & Investment Banking. I am M. Com and Ph.D. in Finance. My essential belief is that teaching is a two-way process, and the teacher learns as much as the student does. One of the objectives of the faculty is to make the class as interactive, lively and thought provoking as possible. The deliverance of conceptual understanding should be achieved through a combination of humour, anecdotes and sharing of industry and personal experiences. Regarding Corporate training, it should be research based and contextualized to the requirements of the individual needs of the organisation, and should fit into overall corporate strategy.
